Lesson 1

General Introduction to Revelation

The book of Revelation is often regarded as the most disputed and complex text within the biblical canon. More than half of its verses contain direct or indirect allusions to the Old Testament, underscoring its theological depth. As a letter, it records the visionary experiences of an individual named John, yet its interpretation has prompted enduring debates. Should its language be read literally or symbolically? Does the scope of its message pertain exclusively to the first-century context of John's day, or does it extend to future events? Was the author the Apostle John, or another figure of the same name? And does the letter's central focus rest upon Israel, the Church, or both?

Who wrote Revelation? For a time in the 3rd century, the authorship of Revelation by the Apostle John was strongly disputed. Yet numerous early historians from the 1st and 2nd centuries consistently affirm John as the author. Ignatius (30–108 A.D.) testifies: 'And why such facts as the following: Peter was crucified; Paul and James were slain with the sword; John was banished to Patmos; Stephen was stoned to death by the Jews who killed the Lord? But, [in truth,] none of these sufferings were in vain; for the Lord was really crucified by the ungodly.' This testimony is one of many affirming John's authorship. It clearly identifies him as having been banished to the island of Patmos, the very place the opening verses of Revelation declare as the setting of the author's vision.

When was the Revelation written? The time period in which the book was written ranges anywhere from the reign of Emperor Nero (A.D. 54-68) to Emperor Domitian (A.D. 81-96). Many believe the book of Revelation was written during the reign of Domitian, since he, or possibly his father, is thought to have banished John to Patmos.

REV. 1:2 who testified to the word of God and to the testimony of Jesus Christ, even to all that he saw.

REV. 1:9 I, John, your brother and fellow partaker in the tribulation and kingdom and perseverance which are in Jesus, was on the island called Patmos because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus.

REV. 1:10 I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a loud voice like the sound of a trumpet,

REV. 1:11 saying, "Write in a book what you see, and send it to the seven churches: to Ephesus and to Smyrna and to Pergamum and to Thyatira and to Sardis and to Philadelphia and to Laodicea."

REV. 1:12 Then I turned to see the voice that was speaking with me. And having turned I saw seven golden lampstands;

REV. 1:13 and in the middle of the lampstands I saw one like a son of man, clothed in a robe reaching to the feet, and girded across His chest with a golden sash.

REV. 1:14 His head and His hair were white like white wool, like snow; and His eyes were like a flame of fire.

REV. 1:15 His feet were like burnished bronze, when it has been made to glow in a furnace, and His voice was like the sound of many waters.

REV. 1:16 In His right hand He held seven stars, and out of His mouth came a sharp two-edged sword; and His face was like the sun shining in its strength.

Revelation Small Group

Daniel 2, Nebuchadnezzar dreams of a great statue, representing a timeline of world empires that will rise and fall, ending with God's eternal kingdom.

Revelation Small Group

Part of Statue	Material	Kingdom	Dates	Key Features	Prophetic Insight
Head	Gold	Babylon (Nebuchadnezzar)	605–539 B.C.	Wealthy, majestic, absolute power (Jer. 27:5–7). First Gentile power to conquer Jerusalem.	Marks the beginning of the Age of the Gentiles (Luke 21:24). God gave Nebuchadnezzar authority to rule the earth.
Chest & Arms	Silver	Medo-Persia	539–331 B.C.	Dual kingdom (two arms). Strong military, but king's power limited by law (Esth. 1:19). Inferior majesty compared to Babylon.	Continues Gentile dominion, replacing Babylon. Persians allowed Jews to return and rebuild the Temple (Ezra 1:1–4).
Belly & Thighs	Bronze	Greece (Alexander the Great)	331–146 B.C.	Swift conquest, ruled by military strength. Kingdom divided after Alexander's death into four parts, with east–west divide (two thighs).	Spread Greek culture and language, preparing the world for the gospel. Introduced lasting East/West political divide.
Legs	Iron	Rome	146 B.C.–476 A.D. (West) / 1453 A.D. (East)	Strong, crushing empire. Expanded widely, assimilated conquered cultures. Divided East/West (two legs).	Rome ruled during Christ's first coming. Fulfilled prophecy by controlling Jerusalem. Pattern of division persisted long after.
Feet & Toes	Iron mixed with clay	Imperialistic–Democratic Alliances (Revived Rome)	Future	Fragile, partly strong, partly weak. Temporary unions and alliances that do not hold together. Ten toes = ten kings (Dan. 7:24).	Represents the final stage of Gentile rule before Christ's return. Sets the stage for the Antichrist's rise.
Stone	Cut without hands	Christ's Kingdom	At Christ's 2nd Coming	Divine origin, not man-made. Strikes statue at feet, shatters all prior kingdoms. Grows into mountain filling the whole earth.	Represents the Millennial Kingdom of Christ (Rev. 20). Ends Gentile dominion, fulfills God's promises to Israel.
